Tells GOP State Chairmen Not to Panic

Nixon Says Republican Ranks Should Be Closed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon, seeking to calm Republican jitters over the Sherman Adams controversy, says party leaders should close ranks and not panic.

In a pep talk Friday night to Republican state chairmen, Nixon said:

"The trouble with Republicans is that when they get into trouble they start acting like a bunch of cannibals."

Nixon's words were reported by two state chairmen who said the vice president made no direct reference to Adams. President El Adams to step out or be fired in Eisenhower's top aide.

A growing number of Republican congressmen have called for Adams to step out or be fired in the light of his acknowledged acceptance of favors from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Many Republicans feel GOP election prospects this fall will be harmed if Adams remains as top White House aide even though President Eisenhower says he needs Adams.

But one state chairman, Alphonso E. Bell Jr. of California, said Nixon, without mentioning Adams' name, expressed doubt the controversy "will have much effect on the November elections."

Thomas G. Judd, Utah state chairman, quoted Nixon as saying Republicans "should pull together regardless of the circumstances."

Nixon was host to the chairmen at the windup of a campaign school here. During that meeting, the chairmen split on the Adams issue when their views were sought by reporters.

Meanwhile, Rep. Richard M. Simpson, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, said the Adams controversy "can only be harmful" to the GOP at the ballot box this year.

New calls for Adams to quit came Friday from Republican congressional ranks. One such call was voiced by Sen. Arthur V. Watkins of Utah, who won Eisenhower's praise in 1954 for the job Watkins did as chairman of a committee that recommended censure of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) announced that Goldfine has agreed to appear July 1, with records, before Harris' House subcommittee that touched off the Adams incident. The subcommittee has been investigating alleged pressures on federal regulatory agencies.

Adams has told the subcommittee he accepted favors from Goldfine as an old friend and also contacted two federal agencies about cases involving Goldfine. Adams acknowledged imprudence but said he never sought to swing agency decisions in favor of Goldfine.

Water Department Installations Inspected

A. L. Fishback, district sanitary engineer, inspected various installations of the Salem water department Friday afternoon. Aubrey Hayes, utilities superintendent, reports.

Mr. Fishback checked the cold-run, low-head pumping station near Guilford Lake, the sewage treatment plant and the filtration plant at the city lake. At the filtration plant, he picked up water samples for analysis by the Ohio Department of Health.

Hayes said this is the first time the department's facilities have been inspected by the state department this year.

Dag to Visit Trouble Spots In Middle East

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld left today to look into a couple of other Middle East hot spots after apparently failing to make any headway toward ending the six-week-old Lebanese rebellion.

As he flew to Israel after two days of talks, a bomb exploded only a few yards from the presidential palace, another of the hundreds of bombs hurled by terrorists since the rebellion began.

The U. N. secretary general was scheduled to visit Jerusalem and the Jordanian capital of Amman on the way to Cairo, capital of the United Arab Republic, which Beirut officials charge with supporting the rebels trying to overthrow Lebanon's pro-Western government.

Jordanian officials said Hammarskjöld would meet King Hussein and Premier Samir El Rifai in Amman. U. N. headquarters in New York announced the secretary general would discuss Mr. Scopus, an Israeli enclave in Jordanian territory near Jerusalem where a Canadian U. N. truce official was killed in a clash May 26.

The U. N. announcement said one topic for discussion in Cairo would be the U. N. Emergency Force which has been separating Egyptian and Israeli troops since their 1956 war.

But another subject of Cairo talks was expected to be Lebanese violence. President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon has accused the U. A. R. of sending in from its neighboring Syrian province arms and troops to aid the rebels.

Hammarskjöld is scheduled to return to Beirut Monday or Tuesday and fly back to New York Wednesday.

Top East-West Talks on A-Test Ban Threatened

Red Try to Secure Russian Bloc Parity May Delay Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Russian effort to force acceptance of Soviet bloc parity in major East-West negotiations threatened today to block the opening of a scientific conference on detection of nuclear explosions.

The agreed purpose of the talks, scheduled to open July 1 in Geneva, is to try to work out a system for policing any future agreement to halt testing of nuclear weapons.

State Department officials said they hoped the Soviet government would be composed of experts in which the Communist side would be composed of experts from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia and the Western side made up of experts from the United States, Britain, France and Canada.

The proposed Western panel was presented to the Soviet foreign office Friday by the U.S. embassy in Moscow. The panel includes three American scientists, two from Britain and one each from France and Canada.

Designated to head the group was Dr. James B. Fisk, vice president of Bell Telephone Laboratories and a member of President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee.

Officials here said there was no doubt the Russians were trying to establish the principle of parity, which they have been pushing at the United Nations and elsewhere since last fall.

The Russians mean by this principle that in any important negotiation there should be as many Soviet bloc nations represented as there are Western nations.

Secretary of State Dulles has spoken out publicly against the parity idea on the ground that it would vastly complicate all sorts of negotiations, such as disarmament talks under the United Nations. Dulles also contends it would set up a false kind of equality between completely independent Western countries such as Britain and France and countries in the Soviet bloc such as Czechoslovakia.

In the current exchanges over setting up the Geneva conference, Russia had taken the position, all along that its side at the conference table would be manned by scientists from the Soviet Union, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Four Hurt As Storms Strike Lorain County

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A severe wind storm hit Lorain County Friday night. Four women were injured when a revival tent was blown down at nearby Amherst.

Police at Amherst said the tent of the Four Square Gospel Church was picked up by the wind and dropped 10 feet from its original site.

Mrs. Mabel Burr, 71, of Vermilion, and Mrs. Walter Wiesch, 44, of Elyria, were injured when poles fell on them in the tent. Mrs. Burr was treated at Amherst Hospital.

Two other women, not identified, suffered cuts, but declined medical treatment, police said.

Shingles from many homes in the eastern section of Elyria were tossed into the streets and a 50-foot section was ripped from the roof of the Perry Fay Co.

The wind was accompanied by heavy rainfall and police at Lorain said Broadways was flooded from curb to curb during the downpour. Railroad underpasses also were flooded, with several cars being stalled in the water.

The State Highway Patrol reported several small trees were blown down, many of them falling across roads in the county.

INSPECT 'LAND FILL' SITE—Five city officials toured the proposed site for a "land fill" rubbish disposal area Friday morning along with A. L. Fishback, sanitary engineer with the Ohio Department of Health. Mr. Fishback inspected the site in order to determine whether a small stream running through the tract would be polluted if rubbish were dumped near it.

'Land Fill' Site Survey, Test Borings Planned

City officials decided at a Friday noon luncheon to have a topographical survey and test-hole borings made on the proposed site of a "land fill" dumping ground for the city before proceeding with action to purchase the tract.

R. M. Linder, chairman of council's special garbage committee, said the city engineer will be instructed to make the topographical survey which will show drainage, contour and elevation of the 25-acre tract now owned by Eldon Pleuss, RD 2, Salem. The site is adjacent to the present city dump.

The city is holding an option to buy the property for $5,000. A private concern will probably be hired to make the test hole borings. Mr. Linder said, to determine the type of sub-soil, underground water table, and rock formation under the 25-acre tract.

The decision to obtain more pertinent data before acting on the site was made after seven city officials conferred Friday with A. L. Fishback, district sanitary engineer of the Ohio Department of Health.

Fishback had been asked to inspect the site after it developed that a small stream running through the area might be polluted as the result of dumping rubbish near it.

Mr. Fishback told city officials the stream was perfectly safe from pollution, and that it would take many years of dumping to work near the stream.

He said the property is an ideal spot for land fill because the ground is much lower than road that leads into the present city dump.

City officials are in agreement that the land fill method of trash disposal should be instituted here. The present dump is open, which creates a potential health menace and public nuisance, Angelo Vivino, city sanitarian said.

Rats that infest the open dump constitute the menace, he said, and odors created by burning rubbish is dumped into it. A bull-fill method would do away with both problems, he said.

In land fill trash disposal, a large trench is dug, and the rubbish is dumped into it. A bulldozer or similar piece of equipment, compacts the trash and a layer of dirt is pushed over the rubbish every night.

The method is continued over the years until a low plot of

Brother Badly Hurt In Mishap Near Lisbon

Cars Collide Headon; Driver of Other Auto Also Hospitalized

One East Liverpool youth was killed and his brother was critically injured in a two-car crash on Rt. 30, three miles south of Lisbon, this morning at 9:30, state highway patrolmen reported.

Richard Crawford, 17, of 514 Jefferson St., East Liverpool, died in an ambulance en route to the East Liverpool City Hospital.

Multiple injuries received in the mishap caused his death.

William Crawford, 14, of the same address is not expected to live, hospital authorities said. He sustained fractures of the jaw and leg and internal injuries.

The brothers were in a car driven by Richard which collided headon with an auto operated by Paul Brownfield, 25, of RD 2, Lisbon, the State Patrol reported. Brownfield is in fair condition at the hospital with multiple lacerations and contusions.

State highway patrolmen said Richard, driving north, attempted to pass another vehicle and crashed into the approaching Brownfield auto.

Both cars were damaged extensively.

Patrolmen and County Coroner E. R. Sturges are continuing their investigation of the accident.

FBI Hunting For 3 Erie Bank Robbers

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The FBI today intensified its search for three bank robbers who took $105,000 from a cash depository of the south side branch of the Union Bank of Erie.

Hugo Winterrowd, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh office of the FBI, arrived in Erie Friday night to take charge of the investigation and search.

"An intensive investigation is being conducted to develop leads," Winterrowd said. "We have only a sketchy description of the robbers. A 13-state alert is out."

FBI agents, state police and municipal law enforcement officers joined in the search for the three men.

Armed with snub-nosed pistols, the robbers were at the bank when employees arrived Friday.

The employees were threatened, but none was injured. The robbers quickly picked up three bags of currency, but in their haste missed another $75,000.

The trio fled in a stolen auto bearing Pennsylvania license plates. The car was found later parked about four blocks from the bank. There was no further clue as to how the robbers completed their escape.

Five employees were left tied up when the robbers fled. One employee freed himself about five minutes after the men escaped and called police.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Bible Words for Today

I Thessalonians 1:2,3 — "We give thanks to God always for you all, constantly mentioning you in our prayers, remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labor of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ." (RSV)

In this writing Paul points out three of the great Christian virtues. The first is what he calls "work of faith." It is faith resulting in work which is the fruit of true faith.

Each of us need to show our faith by our work which in turn is prompted by our faith in right and righteousness, and in God who is the Author of both.

Then Paul speaks of a "labor of love." This is labor entered into because of love for God, for His kingdom, and for one's fellow man. As Paul points out elsewhere, labor entered into without love is empty and valueless.

Then there comes "steadfastness of hope." Man's faith needs to be fixed, certain, and sure. Our faith must not be dependent on the sunshine of the moment, but must be sufficient for the trials and difficulties of life. A steadfast hope can say, "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me." May we work in faith, labor with love, and hold steadfastly to our hope.

14% Hike in Size of '58 Fall Pig Crop Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Friday forecast a 14 per cent increase in the size of the 1958 fall pig crop over that of last year.

This increase would be reflected in a correspondingly larger supply of pork in the late winter-spring and early summer of 1959. The larger supply might bring lower retail prices.

The spring crops for 1957 and 1958, respectively, by states included:

Pennsylvania 468,000 and 399,000; Ohio 2,527,000 and 2,343,000; Indiana 4,048,000 and 3,909,000; Michigan 689,000 and 657,000; and Kentucky 1,092,000 and 1,025,000.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D. (Written for NEA Service)

Some fishing enthusiasts will fish for many days without a bite. Some give up if they do not pull in their daily limit. The difference depends on the reason for fishing and the patience of the piscatorial enthusiast.

If you are going fishing, you will do well to determine whether you are impatient for action, whether you desire a full creel of fish for food, or whether you are seeking the quiet out-of-doors with an incidental interest in casting or still-fishing. Having decided on this purpose you can determine where you will fish, how you will fish and what to use for bait.

When Jesus was a fisherman for men He determined to leave the results up to man. He was so patient that He could spend a lifetime only to find no one with Him at the end. And the bait He used was the love of sinners while hating sin. If we are to follow Christ's example, we must be fully patient, oblivious to human criticism or flattery, and we must be determined to offer ourselves to win others.

Polish Refugee Family Finds Happiness in U.S.

BALTIMORE (AP) — "It gives some touch in the heart."

And those seven words summed up the eight-month first chapter in the American history of a Polish refugee family — Dr. Jerzy Leon Nowinski, a brilliant mathematical researcher, his wife, Maria, and daughter, Krystyna.

Today, the humble, happy Nowinskis returned their borrowed furniture and packed their meager belongings.

Sunday, they leave for Madison, Wis., where Dr. Nowinski will join the faculty of the University of Wisconsin as adjunct professor attached to the Mathematics Research Center.

It was last November that Dr. Nowinski, a 52-year-old, 140-pounder with a Charlie Chaplin mustache, came to the United States to lecture at Johns Hopkins University.

On Jan. 3, the State Department announced asylum had been granted Nowinski and his family. Ten days later, his wife and daughter, who had made their way to England in the meantime, joined him here.

They had carefully planned their escape from Communist-dominated Poland, leaving their Warsaw home with little more than the clothes on their backs. Dr. Nowinski, a professor at the University of Warsaw, had been one of Poland's top theoretical mathematicians — a specialist in thermoelectricity — dealing with the stress and strain on metals under extreme of temperature.

Trujillo's 'Gunboat' Invades Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The "strangest man o' war in port has only one cannon—for shooting lines—and boasts a 12-man orchestra.

The owner, of course, is Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the strongman of the Dominican Republic. The white, four-masted yacht is the Angelita. She is 350 feet long, carries a crew of 80, and was built for the late U. S. Ambassador Joseph Davies.

She came into port Friday listed as a man o' war, thus missing $18.25-a-day dockage fees.

Trujillo said he plans to hold a party for his Hollywood friends aboard the Angelita before he leaves for home aboard the vessel.

Four Killed as Army Helicopter Crashes

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — A military plane crashed south of here this morning, killing four persons, the Kansas Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the crash occurred 8 miles east and 1/4 mile north of the junction of U. S. 40 and Kansas Highway 13.

The CAA air route traffic control center in Kansas City identified the plane as a helicopter.

An Army helicopter base is located at Ft. Riley, Kan., about 18 miles southwest of Manhattan at Junction City, but the CAA did not say whether the "copter was from that base.

Authorities at Ft. Riley later acknowledged that the helicopter was based there but they would not give further details immediately.

Elimination of Tax On Freight in Offing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chance appears to favor congressional agreement on elimination of the federal tax on freight despite administration opposition.

The Senate late Friday voted to erase the 3 per cent levy on freight and the 10 per cent tax on passenger fares in passing a bill to continue for another year present rates on all major excises and the 52 per cent tax on corporation profits. In the absence of extension legislation, these rates would drop automatically on July 1.

The action sent the bill to conference with the House, which earlier voted to continue all taxes at present rates.

But in advance of conferences to compromise Senate-House differences, there were signs pointing to House retreat in favor of canceling the tax on passenger cars.

There appeared to be little prospect, however, for agreement on cancelling the tax on passenger tickets.

Little Rock to Suspend Racial Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope today granted the Little Rock School Board permission to suspend racial integration at Central High School for 2 years.

The decision, received by mail in the U. S. District Court clerk's office here, permits the school to remove the seven Negro students still enrolled at Central.

In New York, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said it would file notice of appeal promptly.

Summer Brings Upswing in U.S.

Steel Output Highest Since Last December

NEW YORK (AP) — Summer's advance found business on the up-beat in most key lines this week. But you could feel soft spots here and there.

Steel production hit its fastest pace since December. Freight carloadings touched a new 1958 high. One of the nation's biggest producers hiked the price of copper.

A poll by the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. found retailers betting on a good summer season. Radio Corp. of America reported a big increase in sales of color TV sets. Texas authorities set a slightly higher limit for July on the state's permissible output of crude oil. The rate of business failures around the country continued to decline.

There were prospects, though, that industrial production would soon bog down in a summer lull. The steel pickup lost some of its luster when Bethlehem Steel Corp. shut down four furnaces at its Lackawanna, N. Y., works. Steel customers have contributed to the upturn by buying to beat an expected price boost. Once the price rise deadline is past, many steel users will resume living off their inventories. They know they can get steel any time they want it.

Railroads were told this week to expect a sharp decline in freight traffic in the heavily industrialized Great Lakes region. The Great Lakes Regional Shippers Advisory Board predicted that carloadings in the Great Lakes district in the next three months will trail last year's pace by about 29 per cent. Shipments of steel, ore and automobiles are expected to show the greatest drop.

There was good news for the ailing railroad industry, too. The Senate voted to kill the three per cent excise tax on rail freight tariffs and the 10 per cent federal tax on passenger fares. For auto manufacturers, the news was not so good. The manufacturers' excise tax on autos stays.

Job prospects for college graduates — not too bright a couple of months ago — have gotten better. So says the Family Economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

As recently as April, the bureau states, job offers for college grads were running 50 to 75 per cent below a year ago.

Here's how the situation stacks up now: last year, nearly every engineering college and technical school polled by Northwestern had all available bachelor of science grads placed by June 1. This year a little over half of the science schools report 90 per cent of their available men placed by commencement time. Nearly all of the remainder forecast complete or nearly complete placements of their engineers by autumn.

Briefly over the business scene: General Foods Corp. announced another reduction in wholesale coffee prices. Estimated fire losses in the United States during May amounted to $85,633,000 — a gain of 1.3 per cent over the same month last year. Corporations issuing public reports paid out 303 million dollars to their stockholders in cash dividends last month, or about the same amount as in May 1957.

Following are the operating results in two major lines of business and finance in the latest week, with comparisons with the preceding week and a year ago: Stock sales (Shares) 13,732,147 latest week; 13,205,380 previous week; 10,902,995 a year ago. Bond sales (par value) $26,647,000 latest week; $27,753,500 previous week; $24,130,500 a year ago.

O'Hara Reports $990 In Campaign Expenses

Att. Delmar T. O'Hara's unsuccessful campaign for the Republican nomination for state representative cost $990.95, the Wells-ville candidate and a committee that supported him reported in statements filed with the County Election Board Friday afternoon.

O'Hara, who sought to unseat Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon, filed a report showing his personal campaign expenditures were $141.50. Howard E. Adams, chairman, reported the O'Hara for Representative Committee spent $849.45.

The Wellsville attorney was the last to file a campaign expense report before the deadline at 4 p.m. yesterday. His was the only report unfilled yesterday morning as the deadline approached. Earlier, the Election Board had warned that failure to file would make a candidate ineligible to run again for any public office for five years.

Samuel J. Sowards, 217 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for an unexpired commission term said his campaign expenses totaled $194.50.

William T. Maple of Kensington, who ran unsuccessfully for the GOP nomination for full-term commissioner, said he spent $235.56. J. Neil McIntosh of Glenmoor, chairman of the Hinchcliffe for Clerk of Courts Committee, reported expenses of $40. The group supported J. Eyler Hinchcliffe of near Lisbon, an unsuccessful candidate for the GOP nomination for an unexpired court clerk's term.

Former Red Prisoners Greeted in Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) A haggard American priest just out of five years in a Communist China prison said today he did not deny charges against him.

But a fellow priest said his companion was sick and made denials for him both.

The Rev. Joseph P. McCormack, 65, and the Rev. Cyril P. Wagner, 51, were moved almost to tears by the greetings of fellow Catholics when they reached Hong Kong. Both looked worn and older than their years.

At a news conference shortly after they landed, white-faced Father Wagner of Pittsburgh and Chicago said he did not deny the Communist charges. "I did deal in black market currency," he said.

Father McCormack of the Maryknoll Seminary in Ossining, N. Y., interrupted him and put his arms around the younger priest's shoulders.

"This man has been sick for five years," he told newsmen. "I deny the charges" against Father Wagner, he said. "My trial and the trial of Father Wagner were ridiculous."

Motion for New Trial Filed in Talbot Case

LISBON — A motion for a new trial was filed late Friday to set aside and vacate the judgment rendered April 7 by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in the Talbot school petition of Hillcrest area people who petitioned to transfer to the Wellsville School district.

The Hillcrest area is now part of the new Southern District. The petition asks the court grant the defendants a new trial on newly discovered evidence.

The petition declares that on Dec. 17, Paul Talbot presented a counter-counter petition to the County School Board which rejected it on the grounds that county board acted officially on the matter Nov. 26, 1957.

Judge Buzzard ruled that the board had taken no final action and the counter-counter petition was valid.

No hearing date has been set on the affidavit.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eaton Manufacturing Co. plans to acquire Fuller Manufacturing Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., for 22 million dollars worth of Eaton stock. Directors of both companies agreed Friday on the Stock Exchange, and stockholders will consider it at separate meetings July 30. Eaton makes truck axles and Fuller's principal product is transmissions.

JAPAN'S PRINCE MAY WED—A bride has been chosen for Japan's Crown Prince Akihito, left, according to Tokyo reports. Unlike his 124 predecessors in a royal line that goes back to 660 B.C., Akihito, 24, may have had a hand in picking the future Empress of Japan. She is pretty 18-year-old Hatsuko Kitashirakawa, right. Twenty names are high on the list of eligibles after more than 300 girls were considered. The final decision is made by the Emperor, a council including the Prime Minister, the girl in question and—for the first time in Japanese history—Akihito.

U.S. Pressing Russia For Release of 9 GIs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, apparently balking at further dealings with Communist East Germany, is pressing Russia to take immediate action toward freeing nine U.S. military men held by the German Reds.

The nine were grabbed by the East Germans when their helicopter went off its course and ran out of gas during bad weather two weeks ago today.

The State Department asked Moscow Friday night to have Soviet military authorities in East Germany act immediately to have the men released.

Russia, in what was regarded as a maneuver to force direct dealing between this country and East Germany, which the United States doesn't recognize, has argued it has no control over its German satellite.

Robert Murphy, deputy under-secretary of state, asked that steps be taken toward freeing the nine men under agreements made at the end of World War II by the allied powers occupying Germany for the handling of military personnel in each other's territory.

Wheat Quotas

when 239 wheat raisers voted. Counties voting against included: Ashland, Columbiana, Coshocton, Crawford, DeFiance, Geauga, Huron, Lake, Muskingum, Richland, Seneca, Stark, Vinton, Wayne, Williams and Wyandot.

Ties were reported in Carroll, Scioto and Union counties. No votes were cast in Athens, Belmont, Cuyahoga, Gallia, Jefferson, Monroe, Morgan, Morrow, Noble and Washington counties.

The program imposes marketing quotas on individual farms and assesses penalties on excess sales. It is designed to limit sales to the production on 55 million acres, which is about 30 per cent less than the postwar peak.

But increasing yields per acre, reflecting better crop practices, have largely offset reductions in plantings. Furthermore, present law does not permit any further reduction in total acreage allotted under the program.

Influencing the referendum's outcome was the fact that the 1959 crop would be supported at an average of about $1.81 a bushel if quotas were approved and at about $1.20 if they were rejected.

This may well be the last referendum on wheat quotas as they now stand. The Eisenhower administration has recommended changes that would grant farmers more freedom to produce if they accepted somewhat lower prices.

Dog Warden, Police Capture Cross Boxer

County dog warden Russell Reichenbach captured a cross male boxer this morning after it had bothered residents of E. State St., for two days.

The boxer wouldn't leave the yard of Mrs. Barbara Halverstadt, 1561 E. State St., or let her feed her own dog that was tied in the yard.

Mr. Reichenbach spent over half an hour quieting the boxer down before he was able to capture it. He was aided by two members of the Salem police department.

Owner of the boxer is not known, the dog warden said. The boxer will be impounded in the county kennels at Lisbon.

The Labor Issue Exists---But When?

Sen. Ives of New York and Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts, sponsors of the labor reform bill before the Senate, want to keep it out of partisan politics.

Their desire to do this is in conflict with the desire of other senators and representatives, who think the labor reform issue finally has reached a boiling point and cannot be ignored.

Some who think this are Republicans, and some are Democrats. They are divided, just as Sen. Ives, a Republican, and Sen. Kennedy, a Democrat, are divided. But the key to partisan division on labor reform in a showdown would be the close identity of the Democratic party with labor leaders who want no labor reform at all, or nothing more than an appearance of reform, to neutralize the issue in the 1958 congressional elections.

The question for Democrats is whether the labor reform issue that exists can be neutralized and cooled off this year.

The question for Republicans is whether the issue can be heated up and brought to a showdown at the polls this year.

The question for Democrats and Republicans who might be caught off base if a showdown developed this year is which way to jump.

EVERYBODY CAN AGREE on one point — that a labor reform issue does exist in the popular mind and awaits only the attention of political partisans to bring it to a showdown.

The issue is defined in the labor reform bill now before the Senate: Should abuses of union power that have flourished under the protection of laws that were intended to protect bona fide unionism from its opponents be dealt with by federal law?

What has not been defined and could become the basis of a vigorous partisan debate is what constitutes an abuse of union power. Opinions on this range from the view that only such flagrant abuses as theft from union treasuries should be curbed to the view that unionism has become an economic juggernaut that must be controlled, as Congress once was forced to control trusts and monopolies.

THIS IS THE labor issue. It exists. It is one of the most widely discussed subjects in the nation. Most politicians would like to keep it under wraps, because they are afraid it would run away with them if they turned it loose. Other politicians think it already has been kept under wraps so long that silence is becoming a disservice to their constituents.

Sen. Ives and Sen. Kennedy, sponsors of the bill before the Senate, are in a middle position. They want to take off the wraps but in a way that would not start a partisan debate.

But how can anything so momentous as the most debated domestic issue of the times be kept from turning into a partisan debate? Isn't that the service that justifies the two-party system — to air both sides of all questions in strong dispute?

get worked up over the execution of Nagy and his Communist companions, they need to explain what Nagy and his companions, all Communists, themselves, thought they had a right to expect at the hands of their comrades.

June Is For Roses

There have been days this month that looked like June but felt like April. There have been days that both looked and felt like April. But there have been few days that looked and felt like June.

This has cooled and dampened human enthusiasm for the most wonderful month of the year. But it has had no effect on the wonderful things that June is famous for, especially the roses.

They are beautiful. They always are. So are the snowball bushes, the irises that now have passed their prime and the endless expanses of green turf. Not to forget the fresh little tails of new growth on evergreens, the glossy new leaves on the oaks and the peonies, which seem to be larger than ordinary this year.

But especially the roses... Could it be that nature intended June to be for the things that grow in the earth and that when humans are not satisfied with it they are criticizing the arrangements for a party to which they were not invited? June, after all, never was famous for people. That was March.

Worry is the result of going ahead and getting upset instead of getting set before you go ahead.

and was given a reception and parade in which he was allowed to act as leader of a band with 76 trombones and 110 cornets.

This was a boyhood dream come true. Willson's memories of Mason City and the love of band music led to fame and fortune in his fifties, through the hit musical "The Music Man" in which "76 Trombones" was a top musical number. He had enjoyed modest successes in entertainment for years but his musical took the jackpot. Odd fact was that several producers read the book and thought it too corny. But it was precisely the corn and the small town flavor that delighted hard-boiled Broadway critics. This was buttered corn, the sweet corn of the old home and it went over big.

How he must have thrilled to the back home party! But we are betting that, as is true of so many communities, there were many who said back before his sensational hit, "I wonder whatever become of that Willson kid. All he ever thought of was band music. I reckon he never got anywhere."

"NOBODY CAN BE more suspicious than a Russian." — John Gunther. Boy, did you ever contact TWO Russians?

Gotham's recent Zoo strike had amazing touches. We just heard about one of the picketline elephants going berserk because it refused to be drawn into a labor dispute.

Then there's the story of the kid who asked, "Why can't we get into the zoo today, mommer?" and got the reply, "It's closed on account of there are people who want to get paid for being there." We told our kid that the giraffe keeper was demanding a higher level of existence and that the hippopotamus crew was fighting for the right to put on a hippo-sitter when it wanted to get a night off.

The Planetarium was closed by a walkout, too. Not a star dared to twinkle and the Milky Way called everything off pending settlement.

Definitely Going the Wrong Way

New York Conservatives

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Conservatives in New York State who do not hesitate to cross party lines will have two very attractive candidates for the governorship and the Senate seat vacated by Irving Ives.

Leonard W. Hall is seeking the Republican nomination for governor and James A. Farley has announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate seat on the Democratic ticket.

Those two share a very special distinction. Both were in command of the national committees of their respective parties in years when the presidency changed sides.

Hall and Farley have other characteristics in common. Both are, measured by the standards of their parties, moderately to the right. They are alike personally in being hearty, practical, likable politicians of long experience.

HALL IS OPPOSED by two formidable candidates. State Senate Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo is seeking the Republican nomination for governor and has pledges of something like 180 convention votes from upstate.

Nelson Rockefeller is being promoted by a group of Park Ave. Republicans and quasi-Democrats, internationally minded individuals—what Thomas E. Dewey used to call the "station-wagon set"—and has pledges of 74 from Westchester and Putnam counties. His group is still impressed by their success in the "Willkie blitz" of 1940.

Hall, with the strong support of his native Long Island counties, is second with 161 pledges. It will require 586 to nominate in the Rochester convention in August.

Farley's announcement poses a difficult problem for Tammany leader Carmine De Sapio and his protégé, Gov. Averell Harriman. Farley has retained his status as a foremost citizen during his 18 years in business. He is powerful with the large Roman Catholic population and with conservative Democrats who have not forgotten Alfred E. Smith.

Farley merely observed the amenities by notifying Harriman and De Sapio of his intention. Then, after Farley's announcement, De Sapio issued a non-committal statement. Harriman was even more reticent.

IT IS CLEAR that Farley's break with F.D.R. has left some bitterness among the "liberals" in the party. That means that those, such as Harriman, who rose under F.D.R., privately opposed him. It means also that David Dubinsky's splinter Liberal party cannot support Farley and its vote has provided the vital margin for Democrats in the state several times. But to alienate the friends of Farley in those two groups would be a hazard of the first order for De Sapio and Harriman. Farley, hearty and independent at a robust 70, is deadly serious about running. If chosen by the Democratic convention and elected, he would have no special obligations to the "liberal" line.

No doubt, Harriman and De Sapio would prefer Robert F. Wagner, who craves the quiet of his father's Senate seat and is just entering the ultimate darkening that has destroyed the future of every Democratic mayor of New York in modern times.

Rockefeller has no public or official record worthy of the nomination for governor but his promoters are well financed and his cause has been carefully promoted by the publication of a series of reports by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. These have mostly advocated more spending and lower taxes.

Grandpa Rockefeller would probably have regretted this use of his money but perhaps the ghost of that once thrifty man has developed immunity to shocks.

It is clear from what I have learned here in New York County that, if Rockefeller is nominated, there will be the same sort of election day paralysis among Republicans that elected Harriman four years ago. If Republicans gaged at Ives then, they will do worse this year with a product of another "Willkie blitz."

Auto Vacations in U.S.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Eighty million Americans will take auto vacations this summer and attempt to beat the recession with maximum use of the nation's free tourist attractions and sightseeing wonders.

And the vacation hotel and motel owners, the operators of resorts and other vacation-for-pay enterprises are braced for price-haggling such as they haven't encountered from tourists in many years.

Nevertheless, auto vacationers will spend about 12 billion dollars this summer. This is about as much as they spent the year before, a survey by the American Automobile Association reveals.

Many persons are deciding to take inexpensive driving vacations instead of their usual stay at expensive resorts. Many people who customarily take long, cross-country trips this year will take shorter trips in the interest of economy. And the camping boom which has been developing the past several years is expected to reach a new high this summer.

Two of the big reasons for general optimism by the AAA experts and other travel authorities are the record savings which Americans have in the bank, and the new roads which have opened to tourists during the past 12 months.

Official state and federal statistics on the completions of new highways sometimes lags more than a year in being reported to the public because of red tape. But a privately published survey, The Parade Magazine Turnpike Guidebook, reports:

"Since last year, more than 500 miles of turnpike, and 1,250 miles of expressways have opened. This now gives the U.S. more than 3,000 miles of turnpikes and more than 7,500 miles of free expressways."

Prisoners of Soviets

By DAVID LAWRENCE

U.S. Has Right to Use Force to Free Soldiers

There have been many occasions in the history of the United States when the forcible retention of American citizens anywhere in a foreign land met with a prompt resistance by the government here.

Nine U. S. Army men in an unarmed helicopter strayed recently into East Germany through error but the Soviet government — America's wartime ally in Europe — refuses to give up the men it imprisoned on June 8.

The United States regards the East German territory as still under the four power occupation agreement. No peace treaty has been signed covering that area and the military armistice is still in effect. The Soviets have set up a puppet government in East Germany but this does not alter the status of the four power agreement.

Thus an American military mission sits in Potsdam, which is within East German territory and is empowered to deal with all questions of a military nature arising therein. The Soviets, however, are repudiating the right of that military mission and are insisting that the American government's dealings be with the East German regime.

The Soviets in 1945 were temporarily given administrative authority over the so-called Soviet zone, which includes East Germany. But this authority is revocable.

The four allied powers are the true custodians of the so-called Soviet zone.

ALLIES DO NOT usually deny to each other the right of access to any part of their own military zones. If they do, they cease to be allies. Actually, under the four power agreement, the Soviets still are responsible for the quick return of American servicemen who may wander into their zone and the United States has so informed the Soviet government.

The United States has every right under the broad principles of international law to use military force to protect the lives of its citizens who happen to be in foreign lands. In the present instance, moreover, the United States, as a member of the alliance that fought World War II, has every right to recover any of its military personnel.

This has been demanded of the Soviet rulers but they are attempting to wash their hands of any responsibility.

If, therefore, the Moscow government insists that it has relinquished all administrative authority over the Soviet zone in East Germany, then such authority reverts completely to the other three military powers — Great Britain, France and the United States.

IT IS INCONCEIVABLE that the United States would take any military steps alone and it would probably consult its two allies about joint action.

Many people will say that such a contingency — the forcible recovery of the nine Americans — is remote but this does not dispose of the legal situation that has been introduced. For the three powers now have been told, in effect, by the Soviet Union that it has ended its occupation of the Soviet zone. This raises a legal problem that cannot be ignored.

The three powers, of course, are in a position now to take the Soviets at their word and to discuss among themselves what military measures should be taken to recover control of the area which was previously occupied by the Soviets but which has never been given to any puppet regime or to any other authority in East Germany to administer except the Soviets.

THE MOSCOW government has been trying to maneuver the United States into a position which would require recognition of the East German government as the ransom price for the recovery of the nine army men, who are in prison though they have committed no crime and violated no tenet of international law.

As for West Germany, all four powers have relinquished authority over it and have recognized the federal republic.

The United States could deal with the East German authorities, as Secretary Dulles says, just as it might negotiate with any "kidnapper." But to do so raises a question that will not be settled by the mere release of the nine Americans. The real question is how Great Britain, France and the United States shall deal henceforth with the zone previously occupied by the Soviets.

The situation could be clarified by a proposal to send American troops to rescue the nine army men. For they are being held apparently by a "bandit" government which has no rights under the original four power agreement.

The Soviets might be inclined then to re-enter the picture, as they have a right to do. This could speed the release of the nine Americans.

The Financial Stew

By SAM DAWSON

The financial stew today contains three ingredients that look like an odd mixture:

1. A record short interest—borrowed stocks sold in belief that prices are due to tumble.

2. First earnings reports for the past six months—showing in the main that profits continue to slide, while the number of firms omitting or cutting dividends because of it steadily mounts.

3. A general and long rise in stock prices—either in belief that times are due to get better or that more inflation is inevitable.

The bears who are selling short seem to take the earnings decline more seriously than do the bulls who apparently think the profit squeeze is a temporary thing and can be eased.

The New York Stock Exchange says that in the 27 years it has been reporting the short interest that barometer of bearish sentiment is now at the record high. The American Stock Exchange also reports a record short interest.

To sell short you borrow stock in expectation of buying it back later at a lower price. If you do, you make a profit. If you can't, you lose.

Last Friday, after five straight months of rising, the short interest on the big board totaled 5,795,105 shares, involving 1,008 of the 1,533 stock issues listed, but representing only 0.1 per cent of the total outstanding shares.

When the big board started keeping records in May, 1931, the short interest was 5,589,700 shares, which at that time was 0.4 per cent of the much smaller total of shares listed.

Those selling short believe that the stock they borrowed is overpriced in relation to its current earnings and prospects. They expect the price to drop before the mounting federal deficit coupled with a fresh wage-price rise can spark a new burst of inflation.

The earnings reports now coming in comfort the bears more than the bulls.

Reports so far from 42 companies whose fiscal year ends before the calendar one, show 22 have lower first six month earnings than last year. Combined their earnings total $102,098,000, compared with $112,250,000 in the first half of their previous fiscal year, or a drop of 9 per cent.

Three of the companies operated at a loss this year and four did the year before.

The decline in profits for the 42 companies as a whole foreshadows similar reports by the great majority of companies which will come along next month. The profit squeeze is in contrast to previous years when earnings were mounting. The first half of 1957 showed a 4.5 per cent gain over higher than 1955. That year had higher than 1955, but year had racked up a whopping 34.7 per cent increase over the first half of 1954.

Many of the optimists think that sales volume will rise this fall. Others think that prices will, too. Together these forces could bring earnings up again and make stocks look good as a hedge against inflation.

The bears see less hope of reversing the decline of profit margins, fear that such a failure will imperil dividend rates, and make current stock prices look too high.

Once Over

Mortimer Topblower, our expert on such matters, has tried out those New York subway trains with the apple blossom scent, and reported against the idea. Mr. Topblower has been a subway traveler, boy and man, all his life and wants the foul air to which he has become hardened and accustomed.

The sudden switch to apple blossoms could kill millions of subway riders, he declares. "I demand my subway atmosphere straight. If I want apples I will go to the fruit store," he says. "That also goes for peaches, bananas, persimmons and wild cherries."

APPLE BLOSSOM scent is being given to subway cars through a ceramic disk letting a flow of concentrated blossom essence. But no apple blossom can win out against the tainted air of the subway, insists Mr. Topblower. "It is cruelty to apple blossoms to ask such a thing," he says. "Take the subway and take the long established system of ventilation; they're bigger than both of us. I refer to me and to apple blossoms in general," he argues.

"NATIVE NEW YORKERS will never accept the perfumed subway," he continues. "They have grown up in the traditional odors of halitosis, old socks, curious hair oils, wet newspapers, hot brakes, codfish, cheap perfumes and the strange scent of circus camels that they regard them as normal."

They are used to them. The sudden suspicion of a trainful of folks that they are in an apple orchard instead of on the usual route to the office or factory can cause a panic."

Mr. Topblower, striking a Patrick Henry attitude declared, "I have been a faithful subway rider for 40 years. Give me it in the accepted form or give me death. But don't fool around me with apple blossoms!"

U.S. Newspapers Split Over Adams' Retension

By The Associated Press

Many of the newspapers that supported Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency have split on the issue of whether he should retain Sherman Adams as his chief White House aide.

The tone of many—but not all—of the Adams-should-go editorials in pro-Republican newspapers has been moderate. On the other hand, two prominent papers that supported the retention of Adams did so in vigorous, almost vehement terms.

Democratic papers generally called for Adams' ouster.

Adams admitted accepting gifts from industrialist Bernard Goldfine and making certain telephone calls inquiring into government matters concerning Goldfine.

Eisenhower, while saying he thought his assistant might have been imprudent, voiced full confidence in the flinty New Englander and said he would retain him.

An example of temperate comment by a paper favoring Adams' resignation came from the Tucson, Ariz., Daily Citizen, which supported Eisenhower:

"Even though he may be a martyred victim of circumstances, Mr. Adams can render final great service to the President by resigning."

Advocate of Resignation

One of the more vehement advocates of Adams' resignation was the Nashville, Tenn., Banner, which supported Eisenhower in both his 1952 and 1956 campaigns:

"If his resignation is not immediately forthcoming voluntarily it should be sought by the President—who cannot possibly condone an incident that nauseates the nation."

The New York Daily News, also a two-time Eisenhower supporter, commented in the same vein:

"We think the President should reconsider his refusal to leave Adams—or, if Gen. Ike can't bring himself to do that, Adams, touted as a shrewd politician, should act like one in his own case and resign."

An editorial in Life magazine, which supported Eisenhower in both his campaigns, said of Adams:

"However regrettable it may be in many ways, his resignation is the best way to insure the principle of morality in government."

On the other side of the political fence, the strongly Democratic New York Post, anti-Eisenhower in both elections, struck a sorrowful note.

"The fact is," said the Post, "that Adams is out on a limb. Even though the President has expressed unshaken confidence in him, it is unlikely that Adams can get down without jumping from the White House to political anonymity. The melancholy truth is that the prestige of the President has suffered a most serious blow."

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, anti-Eisenhower in both campaigns, said of Adams:

"We think his usefulness to the President is ended, and that the President makes a serious mistake, after adopting such a high moral tone on governmental ethics, to condone his assistant's conduct."

The Washington Evening Star, which gave Eisenhower no campaign support, said:

"If Mr. Adams keeps his office a certain sanction will have been given to a double standard of ethics. And it is perfectly obvious that Mr. Adams will be a major political liability to the administration."

One of the most strongly-worded editorial comments was that of the Republican New York Herald-Tribune. The newspaper, pro-Eisenhower in both elections, said:

"No leader since Washington has had such universal respect and admiration (as Eisenhower). For five years, Sherman Adams has been the indispensable right arm of the President. He still is. The President wishes him to remain so. Accordingly, he should. The President and Mr. Adams can now get back to work."

Heaps Praise on Adams

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which supported Eisenhower both in 1952 and 1956, praised Adams extensively:

"He certainly should remain in government. Gov. Adams is a man of limitless energy and extraordinary ability. In these trying times such men are altogether too rare. A man of outstanding genius, such high moral standards and such boundless integrity should not be lost to the government because of one guileless indiscretion."

A number of newspaper took the attitude that Adams' continued presence in the government may have to be reconsidered in the light of coming political developments.

Expressing the editorial feelings of the Hearst newspapers, which supported Eisenhower in both elections, the New York Journal-American said:

"The issue has not been resolved by the White House announcement that Mr. Adams will continue in his job. Such an affirmation, admirable as it may be, does not answer the question. It will be answered by political realities which will have to be faced and weighed by the President and Mr. Adams, and by Mr. Adams in his conscience, in the days to come."

The pro-Eisenhower San Francisco Chronicle said in part:

"The popular discovery that the GOP's most outspoken idealist of purity in office has feet of clay and a coat of vicuna will have measurable political effects at the polls in November. We fear that the GOP is about to be tarred by the same brush that it used so forcefully and, let us admit, virtuously, to daub the Democrats in 1952 for their 'mess in Washington.'"

The New York Times took a broad view of the situation, criticizing Adams without calling for his ouster. The Times, which has supported Eisenhower, commented:

"Mr. Adams certainly has shown himself to be guilty, as he suggests, of bad judgment—or of extraordinarily bad judgment on the part of so experienced and incorruptible a public servant as he unquestionably is."

Mrs. Salentine Mrs. Van Garsse

Misses Kay, Ann Holzbach Brides In Double Ceremony

Milwaukee, Wisc., will be the future home of the Misses Mary Kathleen and Ann Holzbach, whose marriage vows were spoken in a double ring ceremony at 11 a.m. today in St. Paul Church.

The sisters are daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Holzbach of 1081 Jennings Ave. Mary Kathleen, the elder daughter, became the bride of Eugene E. Van Garsse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Van Garsse of Chicago, Ill. Ann's husband is David A. Salentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave A. Salentine of Milwaukee.

Celebrant of the solemn double ring nuptial Mass was the Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney, pastor of St. Paul Church. The nuptial music was presented by the Men's Choir of the church and Mrs. Margaret Kuniewicz, accompanist.

Satin Bows Mark Aisle
White satin bows marked the aisle approaching the altar, which was enhanced with white shefflera and grape ivy. Tapers in twin seven-branch silver candelabra lighted the setting. Mary Kathleen was escorted to the altar by her father, while an uncle, Daniel Conroy of Allegan, Mich., served as Ann's escort.

The brides, given in marriage by their father, wore identical floor-length gowns of embroidered Swiss organza with fingertip veils held in place by similar tiny lace hats trimmed with seed pearls. They carried prayer books, covered with lace and white embroidered organza to match their gowns.

Mary Kathleen's bridal bouquet was fashioned of red sweetheart roses, white marguerites and stephanotis, while blue angel feathers were combined with the red sweetheart roses and white marguerites in Ann's cascade bouquet. The couples attended each other.

Served as Bridesmaids
Serving as bridesmaids for Mary Kathleen were Misses Mary and Martha Fenlon of Columbus, Miss Nancy Russ of Youngstown and Miss Mary Jane Rastetter of Cleveland.

Bridesmaids attending Ann were Miss Judy Soderstrom of Tomah, Wisc., Miss Elizabeth Ann Kubina of Youngstown, Miss Barbara Wright of Salem and a cousin, Miss Marguerite Conroy of Allegan, Mich.

Blue accessories complemented the white organza ballerina-length dresses worn by the bridesmaids, who carried baskets of blue and white daisies.

Ushering for Mr. Van Garsse were his brother, Lee Van Garsse of Mission, Kans., a step-brother, Cyril DeWilde of Chicago; Richard Theil of Chicago and Roland Scholzen of Racine, Wisc.

Mr. Salentine's ushers were Fred Jensen and Roland Durand, both of Salem; a cousin, Leon Moly of Thiensville, Wisc., and John Phalen of Shorewood, Wisc.

Ring bearer, Master James Van Garsse, a nephew of the bridegroom, carried a pillow covered with Italian lace.

Brides' Cousin Flower Girl
The brides' cousin, Miss Patricia O'Brien of Lincolnwood, Ill., was flower girl. She wore a white dress with blue accessories and carried a small basket of blue and white daisies. Thirty years ago on June 22, her mother, Mrs. Charles O'Brien, served as flower girl at Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach's wedding.

For her daughters' wedding, Mrs. Holzbach chose a dress of pink Chantilly lace with matching accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of pink sweetheart roses and blue lily of the valley.

Mrs. Salentine's blue faille dress was complemented with a corsage of white admantium and stephanotis accented with seed pearls. Mrs. Van Garsse, dressed in blue chiffon and lace, wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The reception was held in St. Paul auditorium immediately following the ceremony. Palms and white shefflera formed the background for the receiving line.

Grape ivy and baskets of blue and white daisies were used at the back of the serving tables, which were skirted with white net and adorned with blue bows matching the bridesmaids' sashes. Rose bowls centered the luncheon tables arranged in the room adjoining the auditorium.

Two Wedding Cakes
The two four-tiered wedding cakes were topped with bride and bridegroom figurines.

Organ music was played by Roger Malloy and Ronald Abrams, both of Salem.

Friends and relatives attended from Milwaukee, Chicago, Salina and Mission, Kans., Maniatique and Allegan, Mich., Glendale and McNary, Ariz., Minneapolis, Minn., St. Petersburg, Fla., Mountain Home, Idaho, Wheeling, W. Va., New Castle and Drevonsburg, Pa., Niles, Cleveland, Columbus, Canton, Warren and Youngstown. Mrs. John Ray and Miss Marcia Kille registered the guests.

Mrs. Van Garsse is a graduate of Villa Maria High School at Villa Maria, Pa., and of the College of St. Mary of the Springs at Columbus, where she received a bachelor of science degree in nursing. While at St. Mary's, she was chosen for "Who's Who" in American College and Universities. She attended Marquette University Evening Division and is now employed as a public health nurse.

Mr. Van Garsse was graduated from St. George High School in Chicago and attended the University of Illinois. He is a member of Phi Kappa Fraternity. After two years in the Armed Services, he is now attending Marquette University, majoring in business administration. He is a member of Marquette Veterans Brigade and has been chairman of Catholic Action and social committees of that organization.

Senior at Marquette
Ann, who was graduated from Villa Maria High School, is a senior at Marquette University, majoring in speech correction. She is an active member of Theta Phi Alpha, the National Catholic Social Sorority, and also is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Eta, a professional sorority.

Mr. Salentine, a graduate of Shorewood High School, Milwaukee, was graduated June 8 from Marquette University, where he majored in liberal arts and was a member of the Sociology Club. He will be employed by his father at Salentine Equipment Company and Salentine Company Inc. in Milwaukee. He plans to enter the service in the fall.

For her going away outfit, Mrs. Salentine chose a brown silk Shantung dress with white accessories and corsage. After a honeymoon trip to Florida and New Orleans, the Salentines will reside at 737 N. 15th St., Milwaukee.

The Van Garsses' Milwaukee address is 8904 W. Bluemound Road. For traveling on their wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, Mrs. Van Garsse wore a pink and white silk print dress with white accessories and corsage.

Hosts at Rehearsal Dinner
Friday evening, the parents of the bridegrooms were hosts at the rehearsal dinner at the Salem Golf Club. Places were arranged for the wedding party and visiting relatives.

Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Barrett were hosts at a picnic supper for the brides' relatives and members of their wedding party. The picnic was held at Stafford Lake near Ravenna.

The honorees were entertained Thursday afternoon at a tea in the Cleveland Ave. home of Mrs. Arthur Brian.

In keeping with the colors chosen by the brides for their wedding, the hostess decorated the tea table in a blue and white motif. Blue and white carnations were combined in the floral centerpiece flanked by tapers in silver candelabra.

Mrs. L. D. Beardmore and Mrs. Lester Kille presided at the silver coffee and tea services.

The brides were guests of honor at a dinner party Wednesday evening in the Lape Hotel. Miss Mary Jane Rastetter of Cleveland was hostess.

The 29 guests were relatives of the brides and members of their double wedding party. Table appointments featured a center arrangement of blue and white carnations in a white bowl and blue candles in starshaped holders.

Miss Vivian Vavrek Is Feted at Shower

The last in a series of pre-nuptial parties for Miss Vivian Veronica Vavrek, bride-elect of John Arthur Hively, was given Wednesday evening.

Miss Vavrek's sorority sister, Mrs. Paul B. Myers Jr., entertained at her home on S. Lincoln Ave. at a miscellaneous shower for the honoree.

Mrs. Myers used a pink and white theme with a pink and white decorated sprinkling can suspended from the ceiling over a shower of gifts on a table covered with white linen.

Hearts, wedding rings and a decorated cake were inscribed in pink with the names Vivian and John and their wedding date, June 28, 1958.

A pink and white parasol filled with pink peonies centered the buffet refreshment table. Gum drop corsages and tiny umbrellas decorating the table were favors for the guests. Miss Kitty Purviance assisted Mrs. Myers in serving.

Games were enjoyed by the 17 friends and sorority sisters of Xi Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Prizes went to Mrs. Vincent Crawford, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Mrs. David Fortney and Mrs. Gordon Birkhimer.

Miss Vavrek and her fiancé will be married June 28 at 11:30 a.m. in St. Paul Church. A prelude of music will begin at 11 a.m. Custom of open church will be observed.

The reception will be at 7 p.m. in the American Slovak Club.

Mrs. Regis Mundy

Mr. and Mrs. Regis Mundy Home After Honeymoon Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Regis Mundy have returned after a honeymoon trip through the New England states, Niagara Falls and Canada.

Mrs. Mundy, the former Miss Pauline Marhefka, became the bride of Mr. Mundy June 7 at St. John Catholic Church in Summitville. The Rev. Fr. Cibulka officiated at the nuptial Mass.

Mrs. Mundy is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Marhefka of Summitville. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Loretta Mundy of RD, Hanoverton.

The bride wore a chapel-length gown, fashioned with lace sleeves and yoke. Insets of nylon net trimmed the skirt, which featured appliques near the hemline. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a lace hat adorned with pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, lilies of the valley and a white orchid. John Marhefka of Cleveland gave his sister in marriage.

Mrs. William Gause of Hanoverton was matron of honor and was attired in a gown of pink lace and chiffon. The bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Mundy, sister of the bridegroom, wore a blue gown styled like that worn by the matron of honor.

Joan Gruszecki, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a ballerina-length dress of white marquisette, and carried a basket of white and yellow mums.

Dr. L. F. Mundy of Salem served his brother as best man, Joseph Marhefka of Cleveland, brother of the bride, John Gruszecki, and Paul Loudon were ushers. Three hundred guests from Salem, Cleveland, Youngstown, Salineville, Hanoverton and Pittsburgh, attended the reception at St. John's Hall.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

When you are speaking of your husband to a social acquaintance, don't refer to him as Mr. Brown—or by his title if he has one. Socially, you should refer to him as "Jim" or "my husband."

And when you introduce him say, "This is my husband" or, "I want you to know Jim." Don't say, "May I present Mr. Brown?"

The teen-ager who spends a week end in the home of a friend should write two thank-you notes—one to the friend, and one to the friend's mother. These letters should be written promptly.

There is no excuse for their not being written at all.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Weaver of St. Petersburg, Fla., have concluded a week's visit with friends and relatives here.

Independence, Mo., hometown of President Harry S. Truman, was the starting point of the old Santa Fe Trail in 1831.

Pasco-Metcalf Nuptials Held In Emmanuel Lutheran Church

Miss Kay Marie Pasco and Robert Alton Metcalf pledged their marriage vows Friday evening in a double ring ceremony performed in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Richard D. Freseman officiated at the service which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pasco of 634 Ohio Ave., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Metcalf of 384 E. 7th St.

The altar setting was enhanced by bouquets of white gladioli, carnations and gypsophila, banked by palms and ferns. The chancel was lighted by twin seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Frank Diehl of Sevakene Lake sang "Through the Years," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Dixie Wilde of Salem presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her parents, Miss Pasco chose a bridal gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The basque bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, high-lighted with sequins, and long pointed sleeves. Front and back panels of pleated nylon tulle accented the lace skirt which extended in a chapel train.

Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a lace pillow adorned with sequins and seed pearls. Stephanotis, maidenhair fern and a white orchid were combined to top the white Bible which the bride carried.

Preceding the bride were her three attendants in gowns of silk organza. The gowns were created with fitted bodices, off-the-shoulder necklines and bouffant skirts.

Mrs. Daniel Lockhart of Salem was her sister's matron of honor, and appeared in a gown of American Beauty. Miss Peggy Martin of Salem and Miss Charlotte Dietrich of Cleveland, college roommates of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were shrimpcolored.

The attendants wore matching crowns with circular veils and carried cascade arrangements of white feathered carnations.

Robert Shellenberger of Warren, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were David Metcalf of Salem, brother of the bridegroom, and Daniel Lockhart of Salem, brother-in-law of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pasco chose a turquoise sheath with white accessories and a pink rose corsage. A yellow rose corsage complemented the brown and beige dress worn by Mrs. Metcalf.

The reception followed in the church social room. One hundred and fifty guests from Salem, Marietta, Columbus, Dayton, Akron, Gallon, Lisbon, Warren, Cortland, Cleveland, Youngstown and Miami, Fla., greeted the couple.

The refreshment table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, encircled with maidenhair fern and ivory. White tapers completed the table appointments. Miss Sylvia Brantingham served. Miss Becky Bonfert registered the guests.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How to Find a Victorious Faith

This summer, as for many past summers, visitors from all over the world, including many Americans, will flock to one of my favorite resorts. It is called Burgenstein and it has three hotels, a few cottages and some farms and is surrounded by mountain meadows, providing a delightful mixture of the primitive and the modern. It sits high in the Swiss Alps near Lucerne, in an extraordinarily beautiful area.

Burgenstein was first developed as a resort by a man named Friedrich Frey. He died before my first visit there, but I have heard a great deal about him from his son, who now operates the enterprise. Friedrich Frey must have been a most remarkable person. He was born a peasant and never had much schooling or formal education. Yet he became an important figure in the Swiss power industry and used his earnings to build one of the world's great hotels. Even today the impress of his vital personality pervades the resort he created.

I LAST WENT TO Burgenstein to work on the manuscript of my most recent book, "Stay Alive All Your Life." While I was working one summer day, Fritz Frey, the present proprietor, stopped by to see me. He asked a curious question; he wanted to know if I was going to tell people what faith can do. I answered that I was certainly trying to do just that.

"You know," he said, "my father was a great man." Then he went on to say that the explanation of his father's greatness was very simple, because a fortunate thing had happened to him. "My father when he was young took sick and had to spend one year in the hospital."

IT SEEMED STRANGE that a son would regard this as a fortunate circumstance and I asked him why.

"Because," he answered, "during that year, my father read the Bible six times." Fritz Frey glanced at a precipice near us. "My father developed such a victorious faith from this reading," he went on, "that if he were asked to walk a path on the top of a ridge, the path being only wide enough for foot room, with precipices on the left and on the right, he could walk it absolutely without fear. He was never afraid of anything after the time he saturated himself with the Bible."

I did not doubt a word he said. For the Bible tells us that if we have faith, nothing shall be impossible unto us. This does not mean you can get everything you want, nor does it mean that you are at liberty to be foolish, but it does mean that you may have a power within yourself by which you can meet life and meet it victoriously. This is what is meant by a victorious faith. It is much more than intellectual assent. It is a dynamic attitude toward life's circumstances.

VICTORIOUS FAITH is available to anyone and everyone. Of course, such faith is not cheaply had nor easily attained. It does not come to those who superficially probe into faith, but only to those who are willing to go deep and actually practice it. To do this, you must really believe—you must take faith as a way of life. One must have faith in faith. If you do this you will be given power to achieve the things that really matter in your life. And you will be able to live victoriously and happily.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Salem Drive-In beat Electric Furnace 3-0, Jack's Bar edged Old Dutch 2-1, Friends Church defeated Lincoln Machine 7-4 and Bliss swamped Fireside Inn 13-4 in four city softball games played Friday night at Kelley Park.

In the closely fought Jack's Bar-Old Dutch contest, the latter scored one run in the second inning, but Jack's came back with two runs in the third inning for the eventual victory.

George Gould, the winning hurler, allowed Old Dutch only one hit, by Buddy Cobbs. Brudery and Welkart each got two of the six hits rapped off by the winning team.

Henry Miller was the losing pitcher.

Drive-In got one run in the first inning and held that slim lead until the sixth frame when it tallied two more markers.

Bruce Feicht, the winning hurler, allowed Electric Furnace only one hit. Drive-In batters got six hits off losing pitcher Ray Patterson.

Jack Brudery paced Drive-In with two hits.

Friends Church amassed nine hits to score its victory over Lincoln Machine.

Each team got a run in the third period, but Friends took a two-run lead in the fourth frame. Friends added a tally in the fifth inning and three more in the sixth.

A three-run rally by Lincoln Machine was short of its goal.

The winning hurler, Al Fletcher, allowed Lincoln five hits, including two by Bill Odorizzi, one of which was his fourth homer of the year, hit in the top of the third with nobody on.

The losing pitcher was Judge Guiler.

Jim Kelly, Dick Tolson and Griffith each got two hits for the winners.

Fireside Inn jumped off to a two-run, second inning lead and retained that margin until the fourth inning when the roof caved in.

Bliss scored five runs in that inning, added two in the fifth and scored an unnecessary six more in the sixth.

Fireside tallied its other two runs in the sixth.

Bill Kyser, the winning pitcher, gave up seven runs. Bliss batsmen tagged losing hurler Ron Wyss for nine hits.

Larry Bowersock and Corky Wy each got two hits for Fireside; Bob Kupka and Bob Pasco each rapped two hits for the winners.

Youngstown Team Beats Herron's 5-4

USA Local 1331 topped Herron Transfer 5-4 at Shady run in Youngstown Friday night.

Triples by Ben Roelen and Sam Pridon and Jack Haldeman's single gave the locals a two-run lead in first inning.

But in the last of the fourth, hits by Getsy and Gayan and a hit batsman loaded the bases for the Youngstown team.

An error by pitcher John Shelton gave Local 1331 a run, and Jack Harver cleaned the sacks with a home run.

Herron rallied in the seventh on hits by Cosgarea and Pridon and George Alek's double for two runs, but the rally fell short as Gordy Arndt fouled out for the final out.

The truckers had nine hits, paced by Cosgarea and Pridon who had two each.

John Shelton gave up only four hits. It was his seventh loss of the season.

Tigers Register 7-1 Win Over Yankees

Bill Norman, the new boss of Detroit Tigers, talks a bit like Casey Stengel, manages a bit like Casey Stengel and wins a bit like Casey Stengel. He also happens to be 5-0 against Casey Stengel.

"Willie Card," as Norman calls himself (a nickname picked up long ago as an outfielder in the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system), rambles somewhat in conversation, but apparently the Tigers are hep to his jive.

A dozen days ago the Tigers were in last place and Norman was a "who he?" guy managing Charleston in the American Assn. Now the 47-year-old Norman has an 8-2 record in the majors and the Tigers are a half-game shy of second place.

Playing to a home crowd of 53,168, they knocked off the American League-leading New York Yankees again Friday night, winning 7-1 with a pair of big innings, some fine pitching from Jim Bunning and a crushing pinch hit.

That's a perfect copy of the Stengel-Yankee pattern.

It also handed Stengel and the Yankees a six-game whipping from one club (the Tigers started the string under ex-Manager Jack Tighe) for the first time since 1933, when Cleveland swept two three-game series.

Kansas City retained a share of third with Detroit by beating second place Boston 5-3. That left only the Yankees over .500 in the AL, nine games ahead of the Red Sox. The Chicago White Sox gained fifth place, beating Baltimore 5-3. Cleveland and Washington were rained out.

In the National League, the Milwaukee Braves took a three-game lead—tops in the NL this season—with a 7-3 victory over St. Louis. Philadelphia dropped second place San Francisco 5-4. Pittsburgh reached third with a 2-1 decision over Los Angeles. The Chicago Cubs skidded Cincinnati to fourth, 11-3 in a game held to eight innings by rain.

Bunning, whose shutout capped a four-game Tiger sweep at Yankee Stadium Sunday, struck out 14—tops in the majors this season—and allowed only five hits while out-dueling Bob Turley (10-3) again. The lean right-hander who won 20 last year squared his record at 5-5 with his third consecutive victory, all under Norman. The Yankee run came on Yogi Berra's 11th homer in the fourth inning—the first hit of the game.

The Tigers scored three in the sixth, capped by a two-run double by Al Kaline, who had doubled for their first hit in the fifth, extending his hit streak to 17 games.

A triple by Ozzie Virgil and Gus Zernial's pinch single collected four more in the seventh off Virgil Trucks, making his first Yankee appearance after Sunday's trade with the A's.

Even ex-Tigers had a ball Rookie Bob Shaw (2-2) won his first decision with the White Sox, blanking Baltimore on three hits in 3-1 relief innings. Ray Boone, traded by Detroit Sunday with Shaw, doubled for two runs that gave the Sox the lead in a four-run sixth set off by Jim Landis' seventh home run. It was the eighth in a row for Chicago over the Orioles as Jack Harshman (5-6) lost his sixth straight.

Ralph Terry (5-3) won his third in a row for the A's with the help of Dick Tomanek, former Cleveland southpaw and yet another player involved in Sunday's shifts. Kansas City had only five hits, but clumped three with two walks and a passed ball in a four-run fifth that beat Jim "Riverboat" Smith (3-2). Boston's Jackie Jensen took the AL home run lead with his 18th, a two-run shot in the fourth.

Cincinnati Defeated 11-3 By Chicago

CINCINNATI (AP)—If Frankie Robinson is coming out of his hitting fade at last, Manager Birdie Tebbetts couldn't be happier for his Cincinnati Redlegs.

The 22-year-old Californian whacked two homers Friday night, accounting for all the Redlegs runs in an 11-3 defeat at the hands of Chicago's Cubs.

But he is still hitting well under the .322 average he compiled last season when he won sophomore-of-the-year honors.

Robinson's teammates hit often Friday night, but Chicago made the most of its 12 hits, especially in the first inning.

That's when Chicago jumped all over starter Bob Purkey and piled up seven runs before the Redlegs could shut down the inning. Cincinnati could not recoup.

Two more Cub runs came in the fifth and sixth innings, but that was just frosting on the cake. Taylor Phillips scattered all 12 Redlegs hits strategically and went all the way for his fifth victory this year.

The Reds couldn't score until the fifth inning when Pete Whisenant doubled down the right field line and Robinson followed with his first homer—over the left field fence.

Robinson turned the same trick in the seventh, belting his homer over the center field wall with nobody on. But that was the last Red scoring.

The game finally was ended at the end of the eighth inning after the second rain of the night halted play for nearly 30 minutes.

The Cubs' big inning got started when Tony Taylor and Alvin Dark collected singles and Lee Walls was hit by a pitch. That set the stage for Taylor to score after Walt Moryn's sacrifice fly.

The bases were jammed again when Dale Long got an intention at walk and Sam Taylor singled to account for two more markers.

Again the bases were filled with Cubs by a walk to Bobby Thomson. Another run came on a walk to Phillips and that ended the game for Purkey who has yet to show much stuff this season to the Cubs.

Tony Taylor singled again and so did Dark, accounting for three more runs before reliever Willard Schmidt ended the inning.

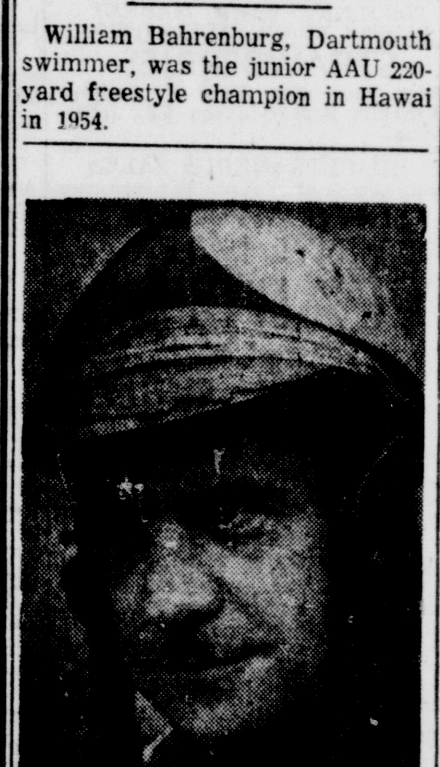

The two Taylors collected walks in the fifth inning around Thomson's single, and that set the scene for Dark's run—producing single. Another run came when Walls hit into a forceout.

Again in the sixth, Moryn walked and, after Long singled, scored on Sam Taylor's safety. Long came in while a double play was in progress.

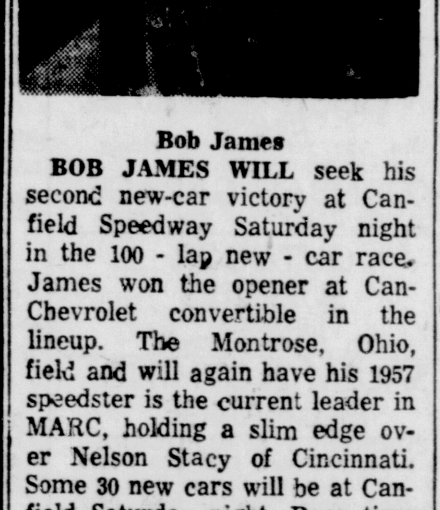

The loss knocked the Redlegs out of the National League's third place and also used up most of the pitchers.

Of the hurlers left, Harvey Haddix is slated to start today's game with Chicago, opposing Dick Drott.

William Bahrenburg, Dartmouth swimmer, was the junior AAU 220-yard freestyle champion in Hawaii in 1954.

Bob James
BOB JAMES WILL seek his second new-car victory at Canfield Speedway Saturday night in the 100-lap new-car race. James won the opener at Canfield in a Chevrolet convertible in the lineup. The Montrose, Ohio, field will again have his 1957 speedster as the current leader in MARC, holding a slim edge over Nelson Stacy of Cincinnati. Some 30 new cars will be at Canfield Saturday night. Race time is 8 p.m.

3 From Salem At 'Disaster' Meeting

Three from Salem attended a second meeting of the Tri-State Disaster Committee held Thursday night at Red Cross Headquarters in Youngstown. The first meeting, held by the group in May, was for the purpose of forming a mutual aid program by the Civil Defense and Red Cross chapters in the district.

Attending Thursday night's meeting as Salem's representatives were Miss Hazel Linn, executive director of Salem Chapter of the Red Cross, James Giffin, chairman of the Red Cross Disaster committee, and Miss Ann McLaughlin, who heads the staff aids in the local chapter.

Heads of disaster committees met with the chapter chairmen and executives to list chapter owned property available on a loan basis in event of disasters.

Salem Chapter reported the following personnel regularly maintained: Canteen, motor corps, first aid, water safety, nursing services, staff aides, Junior Red Cross and many other volunteers.

Equipment listed that could be rushed to any disaster area in the tri-state area includes folding cots, blankets, stretchers, portable stoves, coffee pots, large kettles, station wagons and ambulances and other motor equipment.

Facilities available for bringing in disaster victims, both injured and evacuated, were discussed. The victims would be housed in public buildings in the cities and in the granges in the rural areas, according to the plans outlined by the representatives present.

In Salem, the Red Cross plans in the near future to set up classes for mass feeding and also for social service.

Mr. Giffin and his co-chairman, Russell Loudon, urge Salem citizens and organizations to contribute to the Disaster Campaign fund and to serve with the Red Cross in its mission of mercy to aid disaster sufferers.

Contributions may be sent to the Red Cross office at 148 E. 2nd St., where volunteers may register for the services they are qualified to give.
